The Scene Rises at Skierivice on a Gay and Festive Board.

Extraordinary Precautions Taken to Protect the Emperors—Progress of the Cholera—English Depression of the Desultory Nature of France's Attack—A Premature Snowstorm—Foreign News.

SKIERIVICE, September 16.—After the greeting at the railway station yesterday afternoon, Emperor William drove to the palace with the Czarina. They were followed by the Czar and Emperor Francis Joseph. The right hand side of the Palace was assigned to the Emperor of Austria and Germany; the other side is occupied by the Czar and Czarina. Prince Bismarck, Count Kotschy, Dr. Gobius and the other diplomats are in the Emperor's Lodging in the wing of the palace. The only persons visible from the railway train which bore the Emperor from Warsaw to Skierivice were the soldiers. Nobody was allowed on the platform at the stations and the railway officials were ordered to close the windows of their houses. Polish gendarmes are guarding Skierivice. Nobody is allowed to remain here with a permit signed by Gen. Gourkies.

On his right hand side sat next to the Grand Duchess Maria Paulovna, and next to her Count Kotschy. On the Czar's left hand sat Princess Kotschy, and next to her Count Kotschy. There were no toasts, but at the instance of Emperor William the three monarchs drank wine to gether.

BELLEVILLE.

Hunting for a Missing Editor—The Belleville Fair—Other Items.

The political leaders of Republican persuasions deeply mourn the mysterious disappearance of Will S. Duckworth on the 10th instant, and although every effort has been made to trace him, he has successfully concealed his whereabouts. Mr. Duckworth arrived in Belleville a month since and assumed the control of the Daily Times, started to regain the confidence and support of the large number of Republicans who bolted the party upon the nomination of Blaine. The paper was not a grand one, but many who were interested in it were with Mr. Duckworth. His short stay in Belleville will bear testimony that Mr. Duckworth was more of a success than his paper. The most prominent item in his paper is the regular column of "Local News," in which he regularly reports the news of the various districts of the state. The calling creditors were informed that Mr. Duckworth was away on a short vacation, and was not expected to return. An examination of the books revealed the fact that although the paper was in existence three weeks its enterprising editor had succeeded in mortgaging the publication of the Daily Times, but a few days ago he had to sell the paper to a man named Mr. F. B. Brown, who has been doing a good business with the paper.

The friends of E. B. Brown are now agitated, and the still hunt for a nomination has been abandoned. In the van of the movement are George Bain and Amode Cole, and to-day a number of subscription papers are being circulated among the merchants on the floor of the Exchange and elsewhere, the reading of which is as follows:

"To R. B. Brown, Esq.: The undersigned citizens of Belleville, in the name of the State of Missouri, realizing the importance of the interests of this congressional district, and earnestly desirous of having our varied business interests represented in the House of Representatives, respectfully request that you will permit the use of your name as a candidate for Congress in said district at the coming election."

They are being quite liberally signed, and as there is no other open candidacy in the Republican party for the position, Mr. Brown will probably have quite a large following. The undersigned citizens of Belleville, in the name of the State of Missouri, realizing the importance of the interests of this congressional district, and earnestly desirous of having our varied business interests represented in the House of Representatives, respectfully request that you will permit the use of your name as a candidate for Congress in said district at the coming election."

Mr. F. B. Brown is a man of good character, and has been doing a good business with the paper.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1884.

BLAINE says that if he has done anything he is sorry for it is very glad of it, but we do not believe he is.

The verdict of the Republican press on the last batch of Blaine letters is, that the evidence is against him, but the jury is for him.

We give some additional letters to-day from the people on the subject of Sunday opening. It is plain that there are a great many people who wish to go to the Exposition on Sunday.

The suspicion that the Globe-Democrat secretly desires the defeat of BLAINE is strengthened by its refusal to publish the Fisher correspondence, of which Mr. BLAINE says that he is so proud.

The New York Independent has at last come to the conclusion that Mr. JOHN is the only candidate with a strictly virtuous record. Mrs. BELVA J. LOCKWOOD, however, was probably ruled out of the competitive examination on the ground that she was legally ineligible.

The sharks have appeared at nearly all the Eastern watering places in large numbers, but they are neither as numerous nor as deadly as the sharks who are gathering and swarming in the waters of municipal politics, waiting to pick up anything that may fall overboard between now and November.

A SON of the Mormon monarch, President JOHN TAYLOR, is preaching a crusade against skating rinks, dancing academies and such like foes of morality in large families, but says he is willing to die for polygamy. This young saint is evidently provided with a very satisfactory lumen, but not inclined to indulge it in expensive pastimes.

ALL classes of citizens, with one exception, have contributed liberally to the illumination fund. The exception is the class of property holders and capitalists. Attempts have occasionally been made to secure their contributions for public enterprises, but thus far they have succeeded in baffling all attacks on their purpose. They illustrate the survival of the unfittest.

HOW K. X. Republican papers are now issuing, as a campaign document, the statement that under the last administration the loss of public money was something like one-seventeenth of one mill in a thousand dollars. This requires us to believe either that the Star Route thieves stole something less than twenty-eight cents, or that the Federal revenue under HAYES averaged about seventy-five thousand million dollars a month.

It is plain, from the address of the Tammany leaders, that they are supporting CLEVELAND under compulsion. They reproduce all their old reasons for opposing his nomination, could assign but one reason for supporting him, the fact that he is the nominee of the party.

What is that he is the nominee of the party, never mentioning it at all, is that they find that the Tammany sentiment, that they cannot control the Tammany vote, and could support him because they have to, or be hung from Tammany's Tarpeian rock.

HARD is the lot of HAMILTON FISH. On the strength of an unsupported announcement that he would vote for CLEVELAND, several organs immediately discovered that he was an imbecile and dissolute old corruptor, and that he had created a $40,000 a year job for his son out of Cuban claims. Meanwhile the old gentleman has written to say that he does not care, but will take one bite next November, and now the organs will have hard work scrubbing him clean. The more of this is that you should never throw mud at any member of your own family.

Mr. BLAINE has been heard from in regard to the last published batch of his Fisher correspondence. He wants it read by everybody, and says that every word in the letters is consistent with the most scrupulous integrity and honor. This depends upon what standard of fidelity to public trusts the reader shall judge by. OAKES AMES took the same exalted view of his Credit Mobilier transactions, and DORSEY, BRADY and KELLOGG have made similar remarks about their shares in the Star Route business. They have all three declared that the letters vindicate Mr. BLAINE, and prove that his official and personal relations to the Little Rock and Fort Smith job were not only honorable but high-toned and magnanimous.

The population round about Wellington, Kansas, have inaugurated a new form of procedure in case of lynchings that take the form of homicidal insanity. FRANK JONES, of that vicinity, after two commitments to the Jacksonville Asylum for the Insane by Illinois juries, and after spending three of the last ten years in that institution, migrated to Kansas and made the mistake of going crazy in that State and amusing himself by shooting through the windows of Wellington houses last Saturday. He soon found himself in jail, and that night a body of citizens quietly relieved the community of his presence and the State of all further expense on his account by hanging him.

PROFESSOR HOBSON, a Texas scientist, wants the Government to advance $30,000 to assist him in discovering whether or not the moon is inhabited. Professor H. Jones now feels how sharper than a thankless tooth it is to have a serpent child. His wife in the Land Office swears that he will vote for Blaine.

HENRY LAM, aged 67, who died in Fairfax County, Virginia, recently, long resided near Mount Vernon they hang, and in this case there can be no doubt that the Wellington lynchers were about as dangerously crazy as FRANK JONES himself.

QUESTION OF COST.

As a reason why there should be no change, it is claimed that the public money lost, strayed or stolen under Republican administrations has been less than any or all former administrations from WASHINGTON's down to 1861. The comparison is made in the specimen form of percentages, and the figures are manipulated so as to fit the proposition that less than two miles represents the loss out of every $1,000 collected under Republican administrations, while the loss under BUCHANAN was $3 51, and under JACKSON, $11 71.

Congressman POST, however, has shown that these campaign figures do not tally with the reports of the Solicitors of the Treasury to the Attorney-General. These reports show that, after deducting $34,057,973 recovered on the bonds of defaulting officers, the Government lost by the latter a net total of $45,527,625 27 during only twenty-three years of Republican administration, while the whole loss from WASHINGTON's first administration down to 1861, a period of seventy-two years, amounted to but $24,441,829 82, a little more than half as much as Republican officials got away with in about one-third of the time.

One of the strongest arguments in favor of a change is the startling inconsistency of Republican official statements in regard to these matters. As Chairman of the Senate Committee on Appropriations, Senator DAVIS of West Virginia four years ago investigated the Treasury books and proved a piece arranged for an orchestra, to be dedicated to Sir Moses Montefiore in honor of his coming centennial birthday.

The Presidential candidates are bustling about pretty lively, but there's a little more bustle about Mrs. Lockwood than any of them. Women are such active creatures, you know, when they get real interested in anything.

MOVING DOWN.

The Mets Drop Down a Peg in the Race.

The Gaudaur-Hosmer Match—Games Yesterday—St. Louis Beats Richmond—Diamond Chips—Sporting Sunries.

The Mets losing at Indianapolis yesterday was a very serious set-back for them at the present moment, and it is becoming more and more apparent that they have no margin on the pennant. There are some dissensions in the ranks which will not aid the playing strength of the team, and Keefe, their chief stand-by, is failing badly and is now out of condition. In the meantime the Columbus team is following the New Yorkers very closely and is in position in third place. There is lots of room ahead, and if Columbus can point up in the pitcher's box and increase their prospects are not means dubious.
